

9. If in doubt, ask in the comments area of each page once you become a contributor to the site

SOURCES OF WISDOM

In order to improve the documentation, you need wisdom about how the software works. Here are places to look.

1. tiki.org — If you can't find it here, do a search there first. Tiki.org was formerly the main center for documentation, but much of it is now out of date.
2. Tiki.org forums — Post a question in the appropriate forum.
3. The 1.9 documentation — Check the last comprehensive publication of Tiki documentation, which still provides a good overview and information on many features.
4. dev.tiki.org — Search the Tiki developers site.
5. irc.tiki.org — Developers and other users can often be found on IRC chat, but activity varies according to time of day, etc., so please be patient if you ask a question.

BECOMING AN EXPERT

If you have read and understand the following pages, you will be well on your way to becoming an expert.

- Documentation's Tiki Manual of Style (including Naming Conventions)
- Documentation status
- Documentation templates

