

Switch User

At tiki-login_scr.php or Module login_box:

This permits an admin to become any user, without knowing their password or affecting the date of last login.

The screenshot shows a small window titled "Login". Inside the window, it says "logged in as: marclaporte". Below that is a link for "Logout". At the bottom, there is a label "user:" followed by a text input field and a button labeled "set".

Just type the desired username in the box and click "set".

This is very useful to test permissions and to see what the end user sees.

If this user is not in the Admins groups, you'll need to logout and log back in as admin thereafter.

related

- Module switch_lang
- module groups_emulation
- Module switch_theme