

Add a New Group tab

Overview

Add a new user group

Related Topics

- reference

To Access

From the Admin Group page, click the Add a New Group tab.

Note

Click the add button to create the new group.

The screenshot shows the 'Add a New Group' form. It has a 'List' tab selected and a 'No Tabs' indicator. The form contains the following elements:

- Group: A text input field.
- Description: A large text area.
- Inherit permissions directly from following groups: A list box containing 'Admins', 'Anonymous', and 'Registered'.
- Also inheriting permissions from the following groups (indirect inheritance through the groups selected above): A text input field.
- User can assign to the group himself: A checkbox.
- Users are automatically unassigned from the group after: A checkbox.
- Days: A text input field with a 'Days' label.
- Tip: A blue box with the text 'Use Ctrl+Click to select multiple options'.
- Example: A text input field with the text 'Example: /@tw.org$/' and 'Example: /@tw.org$)(tw.com$/'.
- Add: A blue button at the bottom right.

Setting	Description	Default
Group	Group name
Description	Group description
Inherit permissions directly from following groups	Inherit permissions from selected groups
User can assign to the group himself	Enable user self-assignment to groups
Users are automatically assigned at registration in the group if their emails match the pattern	Email address pattern matching for automatic group assignment

